INNOVATIVE DENTISTRY IN COLTS NECK

By Lori Draz

The season for celebrating your smile is almost here. Weddings, showers, graduations, anniversaries, and special events are ahead of us. The cameras will be snapping and selfies will be taken, but will you be confident and proud of your precious smile line?

Innovative Dentistry provides innovative solutions to get you the smile you always wanted. This office truly lives up to its name: Innovative. Dr. Rajdeep Randhawa, D.D.S., B.D.S. has been practicing dentistry since 1988 and is considered to be in the top 1-2% of dentists in the nation. Patients from across the country travel to his Colts Neck office for his artistic skills in smile design and the best of minimally invasive cosmetic and comprehensive dentistry anywhere. These are the same treatments used by the Hollywood movie stars. He is a graduate of New York University College of Dentistry, a member of the Academy of General Dentistry and Academy of Cosmetic Dentistry, and has been named a NJ Top Dentist for many years in a row. He uses the latest techniques and technology in his office and continues studying the latest innovations in dentistry, attaining the highest level of continuing education in cosmetic dentistry. This allows him to bring his patients the premier standard of care so they can enjoy the natural looking and aesthetically pleasing results they deserve. Some of those unique services include exceptionally thin porcelain veneers that are 0.3-0.5 mm thick, chairside dental veneers, and revolutionary anti-aging cosmetic dentistry that will take 10 to 15 years off your smile line. He is committed to performing the most minimally invasive dental procedures that respect and preserve healthy tooth structure.

Always the perfectionist, Dr. Randhawa works like an artist to strike the right balance of strength, aesthetics, and smile design principles for the best possible results. He strongly believes in giving patients customized, out-of-the-box solutions, combining treatments like Invisalign, in-office teeth whitening, and cosmetic dentistry to give you your best smile. He explains, "A truly good dentist listens and then uses creativity and technology to effectively diagnose and treat your individual needs and wants. They should be friendly, as concerned about your results as you are, and educate you on maintaining your new smile. I am always surprised at how much passion and knowledge people have about homes, cars, boats, clothing, and they want to go for the best, but sometimes accept their smile line without realizing that these are the only sets of teeth they have. We also believe having a beautiful smile is an investment of a lifetime, as it affects your social life, relationships, and career. We always work hard to give our patients a reason to smile." And judging from the numerous testimonials and articles found on his website, he is doing just that.

Dr. Randhawa is also astounded that so many dentists still use techniques that date back almost 200 years, stating, "Many doctors still practice, and patients still accept, procedures like deep amalgam fillings, metal based crowns, dentures, and extractions, even though there are so many newer and better treatments. We offer the latest, the very best, and the most innovative solutions for all our patients." As evidence for that statement, Dr. Randhawa last year attended a topnotch U.C.L.A. Aesthetic Continuum, which has only invited about 600 dentists from throughout the world in last 22 years. This high honor is extended to just 25 to 30 dentists every year. In 2017, he was the only dentist from last year's group that attended the Minimally Invasive Dentistry: Advanced Bonding and Porcelain Veneer Techniques course with Dr. Brian Lesage in Beverly Hills, CA. Advanced training in minimally invasive cosmetic dentistry and biomimetic dentistry helps him offer the best and latest in smile design and makeover to his patients who place their trust in him and his abilities.
